57. I would like to start churches in places where they do not presently exist.
58. I really enjoy using the creative arts to worship God and do ministry.
59. I like studying the Bible in such a way that I can apply what I learn in my own life and can also make it applicable to people I know.
60. I am pretty good at organizing people, tasks, and events.
61. People usually listen and follow my suggestions when I speak out or provide leadership in some area.
62. I am willing to open my home and give shelter and food to those in need, even if they are strangers to me.
63. I can see practical tasks that need to be done and do them without being asked or needing to be thanked.
64. I can faithfully provide long-term support and concern for others.
65. While praying for someone, I can identify strongly with them and their feelings or needs.
66. I am comfortable earnestly praying for anyone who needs healing.
67. I have comforted others in such a way that they felt uplifted and had renewed hope or direction.
68. I see my singleness as a blessing from God.
69. I am willing to do just about anything I can to help someone whom I see has a need.
70. I can often sense good or evil in a person or situation.
71. God sometimes prompts me to confront someone and gives me exactly the right words to do so in a loving and redemptive manner.
72. People have come to Christ as a result of God performing a miracle through me.
73. During prayer or ministry, I have had impressions about someone (previously unknown to me) that turned out to be significant to that person.
74. Cheerfully sharing my financial and material resources is one of the great joys in my Christian walk.
75. When faced with the need to make an important decision, I sense God's presence and understand the "mind of the Holy Spirit."
76. It's not hard for me to trust God to provide large sums of money to further his work or to trust God to protect his people in dangerous circumstances.
77. I consistently look for opportunities to build relationships with non-Christians.
78. I am not distressed by a person's handicap or difficult circumstance and want to minister to their needs.
79. God has used me to pioneer new ministries that proved effective in expanding the Kingdom of God.
80. I have made or written something for someone that touched them deeply and enabled a work of God in their life.
81. I seem to have the ability to clarify different biblical concepts in a way that people understand them and are motivated to study them more.

82. I like to help organizations or groups become more efficient.
83. I enjoy and am successful at involving many people to accomplish a task.
84. I view my house as a very important tool in my ministry to others and enjoy having others use it whenever there is a need.
85. I like to help wherever I can, but I tend to gravitate toward doing certain tasks as opposed to working with certain people.
86. Equipping and releasing others to minister is something I consciously work toward.
87. I can persevere in praying for someone or something even if an immediate answer isn't received.
88. I have sensed the power of God present when praying for healing (i.e. warmth, energy, tingling, etc.).
89. I enjoy being used by God to call people to a higher level of obedience to him.
90. I am excited about being unencumbered by responsibilities to a spouse or family so I can devote all my energy to doing what God has called me to do.
91. I enjoy helping people, especially when I know that what I am doing frees them to better pursue God's will for their lives.
92. My sensitivity to the spiritual forces at work in a person or situation has provided direction for more effective prayer or even deliverance from demonic oppression.
93. When I share messages I believe are from God, people are often encouraged and/or experience a greater sense of peace and contentment as a result.
94. I have experienced God's power to "move mountains" in my life and/or in those I have ministered to.
95. God has brought to mind specific Bible verses or references to share with another person which have been meaningful and helpful to that person.
96. I often look for opportunities to give of my resources.
97. God often shows me how previously revealed truth (such as Scripture or a word from the Lord) is to be applied in a specific situation.
98. I trust that God's purposes will be accomplished in circumstances where success cannot be guaranteed by human effort alone.
99. I am deeply concerned about those who haven't received Christ and want God to use me to do something about it.
100. Spending time with those who are ignored by most people is a pattern of behavior for me.
101. I love to explore uncharted territory in ministry.
102. Producing a work of art (object, musical piece, drama, poem, etc.) often means reproducing an idea God has given me rather than coming up with something out of my own creativity.
103. Sharing biblical truths that I have learned through study of God's Word with a small group or class is very satisfying to me.
104. Once I know the goal I can't help but think of plans and strategies to achieve it.
105. I am able to communicate a goal clearly, then rally people and resources to achieve it.

106. Others say that I make them feel warm, welcome, and wanted.
107. I am content doing the same task over a long period of time.
108. I receive great joy from discipling others.

SPIRITUAL GIFTS Reflection

Which gifts had the highest scores?

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.
- 5.

Were any of these results surprising or unexpected? Were there any gifts that you expected to score higher in than you did? If so, which ones and why?

Read the descriptions of the gifts on the following pages, paying special attention to the ones you scored highest in. Also note that two gifts did not appear on the indicator (Tongues and Interpretation of Tongues). You will be able to tell from the descriptions of these gifts whether you have them or not!

After reflecting on these gift descriptions and your past ministry experiences, what would you say seem to be the primary spiritual gift(s) that God has given you? (It can also be helpful to talk to someone who knows you well, like a close friend or spouse, and ask them what they see as your primary gifts.)

Are there other gifts that you think you may have but aren't sure, or that may be emerging but not fully developed? If so, which one(s)?
